

I am appalled that you, the FCC, have not already taken steps to stop this smear campaign. Whatever happened to fair and balanced reporting? Please take the high road on this, for all our sakes and the media coverage our children's children will inherit. The debates were wonderful, we got to see both good men answer tough questions...we can make up our minds from that. This kind of 'smear television' weakens our democratic process and allows hate to grow in our country, where opinions are made up of sound-bites, negativity and skewed truth, rather than actual facts and records from each candidate's history. PLEASE don't let this happen, we have too much to lose in the long run and selling out to big money does not create a stronger country or healthier, happier, free people.
Sincerely, Cynthia Laughery
